3 Incumbents Keep Village Trustee Seats

Unless Larry Hanson can pull-off a write-in miracle, it looks like the three incumbent trustees have been reelected on the Antioch Village Board.

These are the results of the balloting in the April 7 election in the five-way race for three open trustee seats on the Antioch Village Board, according to figures from the county clerk's office without a total on the votes cast for write-in candidate Hanson, which had to be totaled by hand on April 8.

Former mayor and long-time trustee, Robert Wilton led the balloting with 588 votes, followed by Don Amundsen with 500 and Mabel Lou Weber, 423. Challenger Lyle Wilson, chairman of the Antioch Plan Commission, received 201 votes.

Issues in the campaign were planned growth matching service growth, specifically the pending board approval of a strip mall proposal on Rte. 83, across from the high school and multi-family housing proposed for Anita St.

Incumbent Howard "Bud" Scott easily defeated two challengers, Robert Schmidt and Wayne Blake for a seat as director of the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency. At press time, totals were Scott, 1,581; Blake, 637; and Schmidt, 570.

AARP To Celebrate

The Antioch area Chapter No. 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) will meet Tuesday, April 14, at the Antioch Senior Center and celebrate Easter with a catered luncheon.

Reservations are necessary. Sam Lombardo and the All Stars will entertain the guests with a complete new revue. Wear an Easter bonnet and join in the program. Everyone can win a prize.

Past presidents of the AARP Antioch Chapter will be recognized at this meeting.

Glenn Peterson will be selling tickets at the meeting for the Shady Lane Theatre Dinner Show on Tuesday, May 19.

On Tuesday, March 17, Lombardo and the All Stars performed at the Rolling Hills Nursing Home in Zion, entertaining patients there. This is only one of the many community services this group performs yearly.

The American Assn. of Retired Persons in Illinois are opposed to Gov. Thompson's call for hikes in the gasoline tax and automobile license plates. This increase could effect the transportation needs of senior citizens, many of whom live in rural areas on fixed incomes.

Charles Youlden, legislative chairperson of Chapter 387, has information on how to contact elected officials to voice opinions on this and other important matters.

Youlden is present at every Antioch AARP meeting, held on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month to keep members informed on important issues.

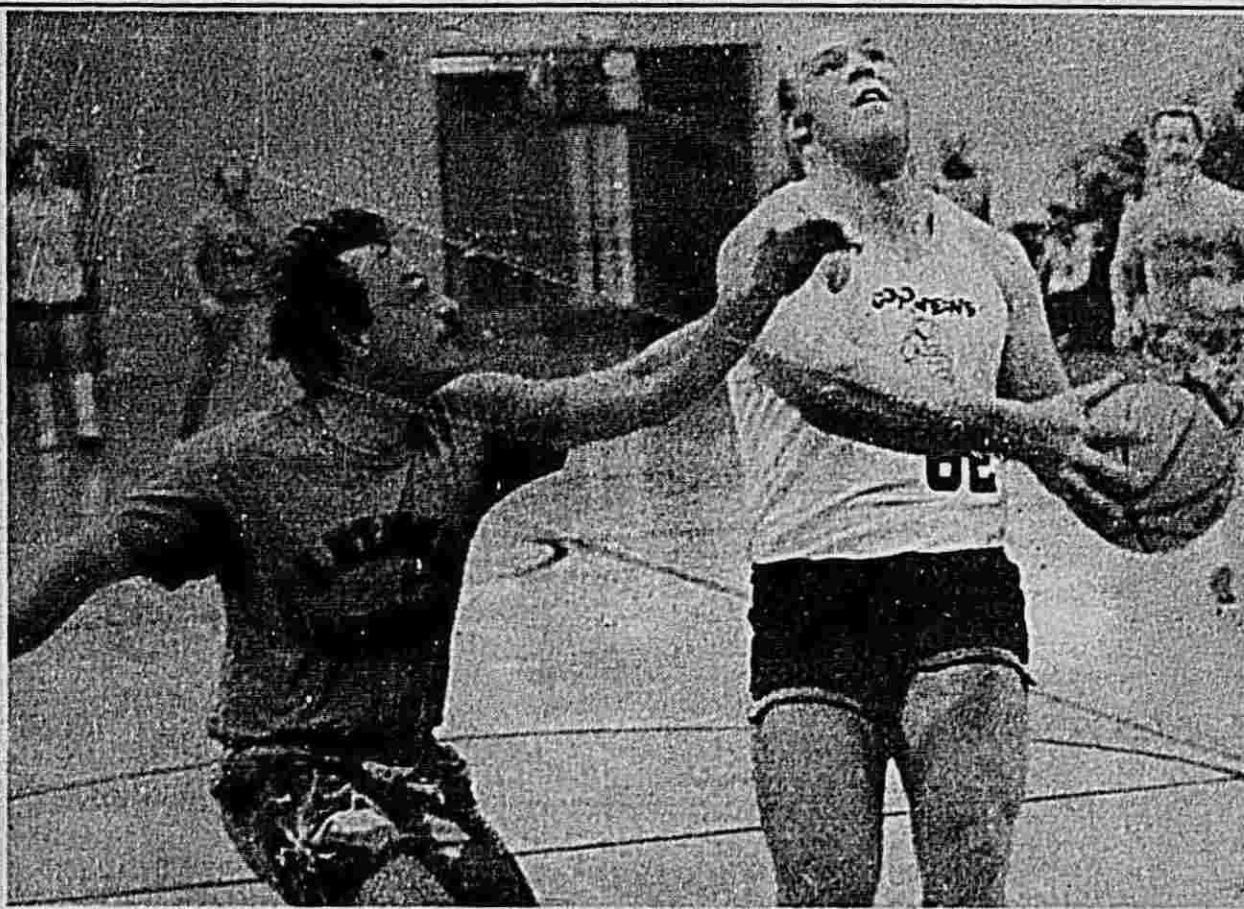

Could Get Money Back

Antioch High School Dist. 117 could receive $1,960 in special education reimbursements.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) reports that at least five area school districts could receive reimbursement for special education services provided 10 years ago, under legislation which has been approved by the Illinois Senate Education Committee.

The measure, which now moves to the senate for consideration, would repay Waukegan Community Unit School Dist. 60 and other districts in the state for expenses they incurred in the 1976-77 school year for special education orphanage act programs.

"The schools lost out on this money because of a change in payment scheduling, and this legislation (SB 74) would require it to be repaid over the next five years," Sen. Geo-Karis said.

Village Talks Action Against Pornography

by GLORIA DAVIS

A discussion on pornography was the highlight of the Antioch Village Board meeting on Monday with about 20 residents attending to hear Lyle Wilson's report on his visit with the state's attorney's office to discuss an anti-pornography fight.

Wilson was appointed to a committee to look into an anti-pornography action by Mayor Ray Toft.

Wilson asked for an ordinance following the guidelines being used by the state's attorney's office targeting X-rated videos.

The possibility of such an ordinance was discussed but the board decided to table the matter until after Village Atty. Ken Clark can confer with the state's attorney's office on the matter.

The board approved the rezoning of property at Rte. 59 and Hillside Ave., for the construction of a car wash by property owner Tom Creighton.

The board heard that the village's hydrant flushing will start during evening hours on April 20 for two to three weeks.

In other business, the board heard that bids on the construction of the planned addition to the sewer treatment plant will be opened at 2 p.m., on Tuesday, April 14.

It was also announced that an early start on the sale of village vehicle stickers has begun even before the May 1 due date. Stickers must be bought at the village hall for $10 sometime within 45 days after May 1.

The board heard that an incidental brush pick-up (no trees please!) will take place on the second Monday of the month through September.

Bad Lungs Go Into Remission

by GLORIA DAVIS

A few weeks ago there was much despair in the lives of a former Antioch man, now living in Paddock Lake, Jim Caldwell, 30, after a lung biopsy taken in January showed that he was suffering from a rare lung disease, sarcoidosis.

The x-ray showed that his lungs were filling with a growing fungus that could eventually cause suffocation.

Last month Caldwell had ceased to be able to hold down his factory job and do anything strenuous, even to playing with his four children.

But now, according to a good friend, Randy Coolbaugh, Caldwell's affliction has not only apparently gone into remission (his lung capacity at 30 percent), but he was feeling good enough to make a try at returning to work on Monday.

The family had financial worries with over $14,000 in medical bills already accumulated and Caldwell's insurance covering only 80 percent.

Last week they received the news from the insurance company that the medical bills would be covered 100 percent.

Neighbors and friends who heard about the Caldwell's plight had sent $2,000 to help the family out and a in a bank account set up at the Bank of Burlington there is another $1,700.

The Caldwell's have expressed their gratitude to those that have helped, but now that hopefully their financial worries have been taken care of, they ask that any donations still intended for them go to other worthy causes.

Set Cotillion For May 9

Plans are underway for the 22nd annual Cotillion, according to Dorothy Teister, chairperson.

Tickets are available from members and financial institutions in Antioch; or by calling Teister at (312) 395-3648, or Louise Vos at (312) 395-0305. A donation of $30 per ticket is requested.

This year's Cotillion will be held at Nippersink Resort at Twin Lakes on May 9. There will be a special performance by Antioch's own Lloyd Pederson. Cocktails will be followed by dinner and dancing to the music of Arcade.

Arrangements can be made to spend the night; reservations can be made by calling Teister. The price of $70 includes room, four rounds of golf, and breakfast.

Some of the persons working to make this year's Cotillion a success are: Chairman Teister; Dennis Johnson, chairman of the donations committee; Jean Stanley, ticket chairman and decorations chairman; and Phyllis Bucar, publicity chairman.

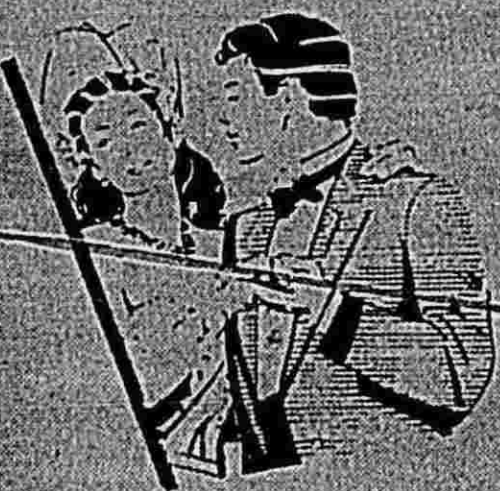

Proceeds from the Cotillion and the Thrift Shop (at 921 Main St. in Antioch) will be donated to the mentally handicapped in the area.

Over $25,000 was donated last year to Grove School, Riverside Foundation Lambs Farm, and to the Antioch Library for special learning games.

Set Date For Museum Fete

The Lakes Region Historical Society has set July 18 for the official opening and dedication of its museum.

The society has many ideas for making this a gala and memorable event. Anyone having suggestions is asked to let the society know. The society is going to need a lot of help with this "bang-up" dedication.

Anyone who can contribute ideas or time may contact Lucille Kuechenmeister at (414)857-7176.

Walt Shepard assures the society that everything can be ready by July, although there is still much work to be done. There is still painting, sanding, staining and installation of doors, a ramp to be built, washrooms to be completed and floors to be done.

Crews work on the first and third Saturdays. Anyone who can spare a few hours on these days, just stop by the "Old School."

Many people have generously donated money to the society, and donations will still be gratefully accepted.

At the society's February meeting, Roberta Knirsch presented some taped interviews with several of Antioch's older residents. They were fascinating.

Sally Hawkins reported that plans are well under way for the Antique Show. Remember the date—first weekend in May.

Earl Beese has completed the plaques for Lifetime Members. They should be displayed at the dedication. Plaques for the windows should be ready at the same time as well.

The officers hope to have a budget ready for consideration at the April meeting.

St. Peter's Schedules Luncheon

St. Peter of Antioch Council of Catholic Women will sponsor an Ecumenical Soup and Salad Luncheon on Thursday, April 9 at noon.

The ladies of St. Peter will serve soup and everyone is asked to bring a salad. It has been suggested that two or three ladies make a salad together.

Everyone is also asked to bring their own plate, soup bowl, cup, fork and spoon. Coffee will be served.

Members of all churches are invited to attend this ecumenical luncheon.

Charge Five In Break-Ins At Campground

Five area men have been charged with burglary in the March 8 break-ins of 14 trailers in the Fox River Recreation Campground in the Channel Lake area of Antioch Twp.

The investigation conducted by Detective Steve Bkorkquist of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., resulted in the arrests of the following: John W. Tubbs, 17, Ingleside; Ollie R. Ferrell, 18, Ingleside; Michael E. Bessert, 19, Spring Grove; Kevin Beissert, 19, Spring Grove; and Brian P. O'Connor, 18, Ingleside. Each posted a $10,000 bond.

Approximately $1,000 worth of fishing equipment, including an outboard motor, was confiscated.

Chamber Plans RV Show

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry has set June 19 through 21 for its third annual RV, Boat and Auto Show.

This year's show space has been expanded to accommodate more exhibitors. The three-day event, to be held at Antioch Community

High School, will feature sportswear and bridal fashion shows, live entertainment, a live remote WXLC broadcast, and food and refreshment booths.

Admission and parking for the event are free.

Rings Are In Best Circles

Mary Ring of Antioch has been honored nationally by being officially nominated for a National Collegiate Criminal Justice Award. This honor is awarded to less than 10 percent of criminal justice students.

She graduated from Gateway Technical Institute on Jan. 21, receiving an associate of applied science degree in court and conference reporting.

She earned the Director's Honor Award Recognition at graduation. This is awarded to graduates with a final grade point average of at least 3.9 on a 4-point scale.

In 1985, Ring was initiated into Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Fraternity of the Community and Junior College.

She is currently working as a court reporter at Racine County Courthouse in Racine. She is the wife of Patrick Ring, and they have two children, Adam and Amanda.

She is the daughter of Gwendoline Lulofs of Lake Villa and the late Casey Lulofs.

Her husband, Pat, recently bowled a 300 perfect game in league bowling at Antioch Bowling Lanes.

Schedule Dinner Dance

The German-American Club of Antioch will hold their Membership Drive-Dinner Dance on Saturday, April 11, at the Country House, Rte. 173 and Tiffany Rd. in Antioch.

Doors open at 6 p.m. Join the club for an evening of dining and dancing to music by the "Goldene Drei." For ticket information, call Dorothy Jordahl, (312)356-5484 for reservations by April 6.

Letter To The Editor:

Editor:

We urge Grass Lake residents to attend the Grass Lake School Board meeting on Monday evening, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. to show your concern regarding the board's decision on March 10 to dismiss the following members of the Grass Lake School staff: Junior high social studies teacher; music teacher; art teacher; remedial reading teacher; cook; and assistant cook.

The Grass Lake Education Assn./IEA-NEA will be on the agenda to ask the board to reinstate the above positions with particular emphasis on those that affect the school's instructional program.

While we feel the long-term financial health of the school will require an influx of new funds, we strongly believe the said cuts should be recalled now to insure that we maintain the current status of the school's educational program for the 1987-88 school year.

Grass Lake School provides the community's children with a good instructional program. We should make every effort to keep it intact for them!

The community's support is needed now, Monday, April 13, and it will also be needed in November when the board places the issue of increasing school revenues on the ballot!

Sincerely,

Grass Lake Education

Bi-Partisanship Important

Responsible Democratic and Republican leaders ought to take a fast and hard look at the appearance of crass partisan politics in the resignation of Dennis Ryan, former Lake County state attorney, as attorney for the Central Lake County Water Planning Agency.

Ryan's resignation was effective Jan. 1, but it didn't come to light until last week when State Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) served notice that the solid bi-partisan support of efforts to bring Lake Michigan water to central Lake County communities was in jeopardy because of the unceremonious way Ryan was booted off the agency. For the record, Ryan is a prominent Democrat. Ryan was given his walking papers by Libertyville Mayor Paul Neal, agency chairman, who is at cross purposes with Ryan over his representation of Libertyville Twp. in a hotly contested open space issue and the uncle of Lake County GOP Chairman Robert "Bob" Neal.

So much for inuendo.

Lake County has a long history of bi-partisan participation in solving regional sanitation problems, water resource management, conservation and flood control. These are areas where state assistance is required for funding and enabling legislation. It doesn't take a genius to understand that a one party approach doesn't get very far when Springfield is concerned.

Matijevich, who has a long record of service to the entire county, fired the first shot so we're looking for Republican leadership to respond. Playing the party line has its place. Without partisanship there's no two-party system of government. But where the long run general public good is at stake, we're convinced that bi-partisanship is the way to go and we think the record speaks.

Score one for the Democrats this time. Let's hear from the Republicans.

Uniform Hours Worthwhile

Tavern closing hours was an issue in the Mundelein village election Tuesday, April 7, and it's surprising that this topic isn't raised more often for public debate considering the hodge podge of tavern closing hours in this locality.

Arthur Glitz, a candidate for a Mundelein trusteeship and police chief for 11 years before his retirement, insisted that one late closing of 5 a.m. "invites all the drunks to come to Mundelein." Glitz supports the theory that lack of continuity in tavern closing hours creates a disproportionate amount of police problems for a municipality with late closing taverns.

For precisely this reason, Trustee Walter Kubalanza of Fox Lake has been conducting a frontal attack on Fox Lake's liquor control ordinance which allows for later closing hours for some taverns. Kubalanza, who was not up for reelection this year, states flatly that Fox Lake has more police problems and therefore higher law enforcement costs because of the closing hour differential.

The theory sounds plausible, although we're unaware of any scientific survey that has been taken to document the idea that late tavern closings translates into police problems. We do know, though, that there are almost as many different tavern closing schedules in the Lakeland area as there are municipalities. It makes sense that uniformity of closing hours would be to the benefit of all, even for the imbibers who enjoy being around for "final call."

Letters To The Editor:

Parents At Fault

Editor:

I must agree with Karen Schmehl concerning the "contract" that the Antioch High School officials are attempting to get all the seniors to sign in reference to their graduation. If this is an attempt to prevent any horseplay at the graduation of the class of '87 then the Antioch School officials are more ignorant than first supposed concerning the disposition and attitudes of a lot of teenagers.

Most of the graduates will probably be quite orderly and congenial. However, anyone who has been out into this world knows that there is one in every crowd, as the old saying goes. This contract is an infringement on the students' legal rights; it is a question of the individual's integrity, and should be considered an insult by the students and their parents alike. Granted, not every student will act like an angel, but you have those who will. And if they have put up with school officials who have attitudes towards them as displayed by this "contract signing" for the past four years, then by God, they deserve to get a little out of hand.

But, of course, we all know that the Antioch School officials have always done everything strictly within the limits of the law and good moral standing, right! Antioch students, I urge you not to sign this contract, instead, hire an attorney and let him figure out what is legal and what is not. Right on, Karen, and keep both barrels loaded! By the way, I am a Round Lake High School graduate of 1978, and my graduation was a circus, and it was caused by our parents, not any of the students. And, if you need the name of a good attorney, drop me a line.

John F. Pepper
Radcliff, Ky.

"may be a good idea, but it is probably too late to offer as a method of defeating Waste Management's application."

I strongly disagree with Mr. Johnston's above-mentioned assertions.

First, we need to distinguish between land-fill disposal and solid waste incineration in terms of environmental impact. Our experience in this nation with solid waste incineration is too new to "make sure" it is environmentally sound.

Furthermore, recent research has come to light in our own country that solid waste incineration (also known as "mass burn") can cause a great deal of harm to our own environment.

Dr. Barry Commoner of the Center for Biology of Natural Systems, New York, conducted experiments which documented that poisons such as dioxin and toxic ash are emitted into the atmosphere and onto the ground regardless of how high the burning temperatures of solid waste incinerators are maintained.

As far as "alternative waste plans probably being too late," it is never too late to turn down an application whose impact is clearly detrimental and harmful to the welfare and well-being of our communities and county—regardless of the county board's original criteria!

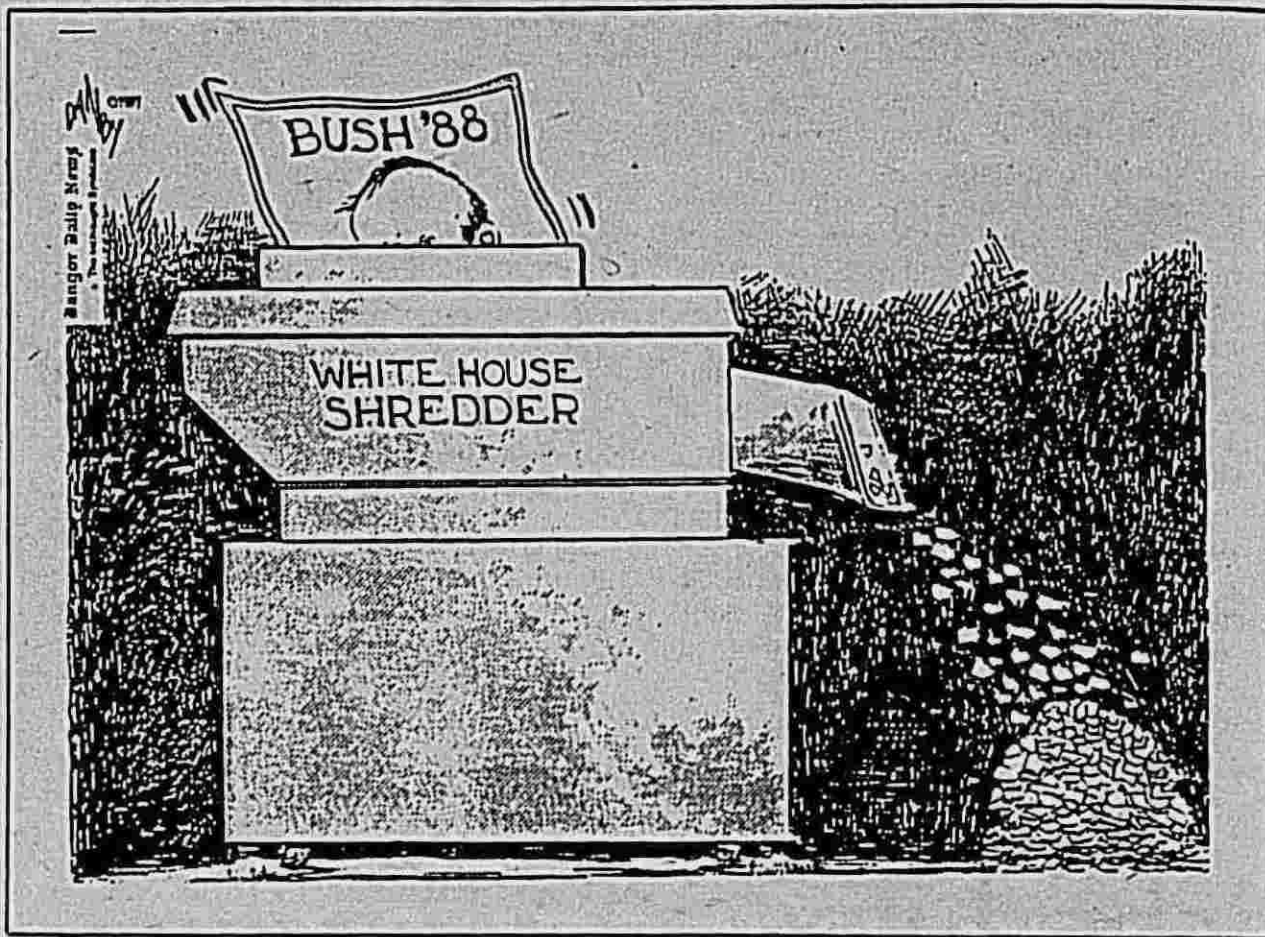

If Waste Management is a leader in recycling technology and techniques as Mr. Johnston's editorial states, then let them submit a new application for a recycling plant operation on a site recommended by Lake County Solid Waste Planning Committee.

Meanwhile, why should we risk our safety and welfare to be guinea pigs in the interest of an "innovative" technology that has been demonstrated experimentally to have a potentially devastating impact on our communities?

Volo Makes Mark With Cooperation, Unique Features

by BILL SCHROEDER

Tiny Volo, a crossroads hamlet at the busy intersection of Rtes. 12 and 120, is a good example of how business people working together can create a thriving retail and service center, not to mention a profitable community.

Business owners have adopted Volo Village as a unifying theme around which they cooperate on promotion and exchange information.

Established at the turn of the century as a gathering place for nearby farmers, mostly of German descent, the magnet was St. Peter's Church and School. For years the most evident part of the Volo landscape, besides St. Peter's, were taverns and filling stations.

That's all changed now. Volo Village has attracted a variety of businesses. "They're all successful," points out Jack Ready, the driving force behind Volo Village and operator of a window treatment business. Without a doubt, highway traffic is a key ingredient. But cooperation hasn't hurt either.

Volo's best-known business probably is Munson Marine, which pioneered the dryland marina concept more than 20 years ago and now operates out of three locations with a multi-million dollar boat sales and service operation. Ready's own business, Shutter Hut, has a clientele stretching 20 to 30 miles in all directions. Now facilities have been expanded to include space for his wife Karen's business, Candy Courier, which provides a wide variety of candy gifts in creative packages to individuals and corporations. Rivaling Munson for reputation is Old Volo, owned and operated by brothers Bill and Greg Grams, which is a conglomerate all by itself. Old Volo features a furniture store, antique museum, classic car center and a variety of other small businesses all decided to keep visitors entertained, fed and enticed for an afternoon. Bob Williams, who formerly operated a newspaper distributorship and alternative mail delivery service, opened a nursery center that has thrived. As Ready points out with a grin, the problem now is finding a location in Volo to establish a business.

Volo is unique with perhaps its most unique feature being the famous Volo Bog, now part of the state park system, with its prehistoric flora and fauna.

GOLFING BONANZA—Stan Luda has high hopes of making the Antioch Lions Club spring golf outing May 20 at Hunter Country Club, Richmond, one of the most exciting golf tournaments ever held in this locality.

Luda, postmaster of Antioch, expects to have five new automobiles available as prizes in a hole-in-one shootout. "Hunter has three short par-threes so the gunners will have some pretty inviting targets," declared Luda, who normally gets out on the links about three times a week.

With mid-April at hand, local golf courses will be getting a good workout soon. The unusually mild winter left most of the courses in excellent shape. Winter skill, always a problem, was virtually non-existent this year.

Then there's the die-hard par busters like Hollis Prior, the Wauconda real estate broker, who plays year round. Hang the snow and golf. Prior and his mates kept in shape playing Biltmore Country Club just about every weekend all winter long.

REAL WORKER—In an era when more and more Americans seem to be on permanent vacations—who works anymore?—it's refreshing, and rare, to meet a person who works hard and enjoys life at the same time.

John Bafaloukos works hard. You can see it in his eyes and on his hands. "I have to keep up. There's a lot to do. I never catch up," exclaims the owner of a shoe repair shop.

Johnny's Shoe Repair is a landmark in Lake Zurich because the shop is located on Main St. and is across the street from the bank—and because Bafaloukos is an excellent shoe repairman. His expertise shows up on the feet of a large number of people in southwest Lake County.

Bafaloukos is a proud man as befitting his Greek heritage. John's good at what he does not only because he's been at it a long time but because he learned his craft properly—from the bottom. "I learned to make shoes and boots, an apprentice. Now I don't make shoes anymore, but I repair them," he remarked simply and matter-of-factly.

I can't get him out of my mind. Three hundred and sixty-five days a year. Working. A self-made man, dependent on no one. I admire a man like John Bafaloukos.

90 Singers To Appear In Concert On April 10

The 50-member Liberty-Fremont Chorale will be joined by the 40-member Elgin Symphonette and an array of outstanding soloists for the "Mass in C" and the "Choral Fantasy," on Friday, April 10, at the Libertyville High School Auditorium. Concert time is 8 p.m.

Vocal soloists for this concert were chosen from over 40 singers who auditioned to perform. Soprano Donna Sadlicka has sung in many operatic roles in the midwest, and has won numerous awards for her beautiful singing.

Mezzo-soprano Debra Austin is a graduate of Northwestern University and has appeared in oratorios in the Chicago area.

James Guthrie is the tenor soloist, and he has performed widely in both opera and oratorio concerts in the U.S.

Robert Knight will be performing bass solos. He is a graduate of Indiana University and has sung both opera and concert programs in the Chicago area.

Piano soloist in the "Choral Fantasy" will be Theodore Edel. He is replacing Lenore Lams, who had to cancel her appearance due to illness.

Edel recently, thrilled concert-goers in Libertyville with his performance of a solo recital on March 8 in the Studio Theatre.

He is a graduate of the Julliard School and the Manhattan School of Music in New York, and his playing has been described as "dynamic pianism, assured and dazzling" by the New York Times.

The concert is being directed by David Katz, founder and director of the Elgin Symphonette, as well as associate conductor of the Elgin Symphony.

He is one of the most talented young musicians and composers in the Midwest whose beautiful Winter Carol was performed by the LFCS Chorale in its Christmas program.

This exciting and inspirational concert is not to be missed! Tickets may be purchased at the door for $7.50 for adults, $5 senior citizens and students. They are also available at Luebbers Pharmacy or Hale's Fabrics in Libertyville, or Fairhaven Pharmacy in Mundelein.

To Honor 2 Irish Singers

Two lifetimes of music will be honored when Joe Shannon and Johnny McGreevy receive the David Adler Cultural Center's fourth annual Traditional Music Award at a special concert at 8 p.m., Saturday, April 11.

Josh Dunson, ethnic music editor for Chicago magazine, will be the master of ceremonies for the concert, which will be in the Libertyville High School Studio Theater, 708 W. Park Ave., Libertyville.

Egle Zygas, director of folk and ethnic art programs for the Illinois Art Programs for the Illinois Arts Council, will present the awards.

Shannon and McGreevy, two of the best known Irish musicians in the country, have been playing together in and around Chicago for 50 years. In 1976, they played at the Festival of American Folklife in Washington, D.C., and Shannon played at the National Folk Festival at Wolf Trap in 1979. In 1983, Shannon received a National Endowment Award.

Besides Shannon, who plays Uilleann pipes, and McGreevy, who plays fiddle, the concert will feature a host of other musicians from the treasure-house of Chicago's Irish community, including champion fiddler Liz Carroll.

Admission to the concert is $5 for adults, $4.50 for members, $2 for senior citizens and children six through 12 and free for children under six.

The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a non-profit organization. For information call (312) 367-0707.

Illinois Arts Council's Grants Go To Art Groups

This year, grants totaling $104,625 were awarded by the Illinois Arts Council Ethnic and Folk Arts programs to individual artists and local arts organizations that work in the heritage arts.

Nine master artist/apprentice pairs received a total of $20,000 through the FY '87 Apprenticeship Program. This program encourages the efforts of master artists practicing traditional art forms to pass on their knowledge to the next generation.

Seven artists received

Illinois Arts Council Fellowships in ethnic and folk crafts, music composition and dance choreography. In recognition of continued artistic excellence and achievement, these artists received individual awards ranging from $2,000 to $6,000.

As a result of a statewide Heritage Arts Documentation Project, 13 local arts organizations received Requests for Proposal grants up to $5,000 to survey the traditional arts and artists in their areas. Fieldworkers specializing in the folk and ethnic art forms surveyed will be hired to identify and document the traditional arts in order to increase local and statewide appreciation of Illinois' heritage arts resources.

The David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville received a $5,000 grant for a study of folk music in the Waukegan/Zion area.

Dedicated to fostering artistic excellence, the Illinois Arts Council works toward ensuring that all citizenry have access to Illinois' abundant cultural resources.

Symphony To Feature Top Young Artists

Featured soloists in the Waukegan Symphony's April 11 concert at 8 p.m. in the Genesee Theatre will be the three finalists in the symphony's seventh annual Young Artist's Competition.

The young musicians, chosen from a field of 18, are Wendy Warner, a cellist who will perform "Variations on a Rocco Theme" by Tchaikovsky; Koichi Inoue, who will play the first movement of Prokofiev's "Piano Concerto No. 3"; and violinist Rachel Barton, who has selected "Violin Concerto in D Major, Movement III" by Tchaikovsky. The winners of the first, second and third prizes of $500, $250 and $100 respectively, will be announced at the concert.

In addition to the young artists' performances, the orchestra will play Rossini's "Overture to La Gazza Ladra," and "Symphony No. 8 in F Major" by Beethoven.

Warner, 14, a student at North Shore Country Day School, studies with Nell Novak at the Music Center of the North Shore.

She has won first prize in all four pre-collegiate divisions of the Society of American Musicians' annual competition and has placed in numerous competitions in the Chicago area. She has appeared as soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra on Channel 11. In May she will perform with the Northwest Symphony playing the Dvorak concerto.

Inoue, 18, is a native of Japan who began studying piano when he was five. He has won several prizes in his native land, including second prize in the Chugoku Youth Piano Competition in Hiroshima.

He has been in the U.S. since April of 1986 and won the Grand Champion Award in the Barrington Competition. Currently a senior at New Trier High School, Inoue has been awarded a scholarship to Roosevelt University.

Barton, 12, who is in the seventh grade of the home tutor program, began to study the violin when she was three and a half. She currently studies with Almita and Roland Vamos at the Music Center of the North Shore.

She has won numerous prizes in competitions throughout the Chicago area, and has appeared with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra on Channel 11.

She placed first in the Intermediate Div. of the American Musicians' Competition. Barton has been featured soloist with many area symphony orchestras. In September, 1986, she joined the violin section of the Civic Orchestra of Chicago.

The Young Artists' Competition is open to any junior or senior high school student in Lake or Cook County. The funding for the prizes has been made possible in large part by a memorial fund established in honor of the late Nancy Fuqua Erkkila and her family by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Fuqua of Waukegan.

Turtle Power

Newly-hatched turtles, naturally attracted to the sea by the rising or setting sun, are easily disoriented by artificial lights from beachfront development. So, several Florida counties and towns have passed ordinances restricting beach lighting between May and October, the prime sea turtle nesting season. According to International Wildlife magazine, the protective ordinances require that beachfront lights be turned off after 11 p.m.

Bluegrass Coming To Woodstock

Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys will be presented in concert on Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9, at the Woodstock Opera House.

Monroe, a professional musician for over 50 years, has long been a widely acknowledged legend in his own time as the "Father of Bluegrass" music.

He began his career in the early 1930s when he formed a three-man string and vocal ensemble with older brothers Birch and Charlie Monroe. Over the years, he has written many songs which have become bluegrass classics, tunes which even the most casual bluegrass fan would recognize, such as "Blue Moon of Kentucky," "Uncle Pen," "I Hear a Sweet Voice Calling," "Kentucky Waltz," and "My Rose of Old Kentucky."

Many brilliant musicians have claimed membership in Monroe's Bluegrass band during the development of their careers, including Lester Flatt, Earl Scruggs, Mac Wiseman, Vassar Clements and Sonny Osborn.

Monroe continues to write music, and enjoys performing in the resurgence of bluegrass and other forms of country music that has recurred in the past several years.

Waste

want to stop the landfill, there are two things they must do. First, clear and compelling evidence must be presented that mass-burn incineration is a terribly flawed technology. This involves much more than presenting a few opposing witnesses, whatever their qualifications.

Second, a reasonable alternative plan must be presented - and it better be able to be in place by 1991.

I am not happy with the way this plan was presented. It was dumped on the residents of Lake County with no time to review. It did not go through the siting process set up by the Solid Waste Joint Action Planning Agency. I believe that people are mature enough to deal with hard problems if they are leveled with from the start. That did not happen here.

Be that as it may, the application is going to be judged on the criteria. I do think Waste Management will do a good job of running the landfill. For those who think the Pollution Control Board will follow the local lead, I can only say that I have found several instances where a local no vote was overturned, but none overturning a yes vote. If there is a better alternative, opponents had better come up with it now. Otherwise, the initial flush of victory if the county denies the application will be followed by a hard dose of reality when the Pollution Control Board approves it.

Ironically, Waste Management may hold the key to an alternative technology. Its Empire Division in northern California is a leader in recycling technology and has been successful in getting mass public participation. When government has tried recycling, it has been akin to preaching to the converted - environmentalists participate, but few others bother. Whatever the outcome of the landfill, I hope that the county does enter into talks with Waste Management regarding recycling.

DePaul Law Caucus Honors Geo-Karis

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) was honored by the Women's Law Caucus of DePaul University on March 4 as one of their "outstanding women graduates of the College of Law," at the college's 50th anniversary celebration dinner in Chicago.

An award for Sen. Geo-Karis' "outstanding achievement in the legal community" was presented by the Women's Law Caucus president Barbara DeKerf. DePaul University's Women's Law Caucus is one of the oldest organizations for women law students in the country.

Geo-Karis and 14 other accomplished women alumni were also presented with letters of congratulations from U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, U.S. Congressman Sidney Yates, Gov. James Thompson and Illinois Speaker of the House Michael Madigan.

"What I remember most about DePaul was that it was tough. There were 35 women in a class of 300, and out of that 300 only 150 graduated; and I was the only woman who graduated from that class," the senator said.

"It is important for anyone who wants to enter the legal profession to receive good training. You really have to stick with it to be successful as a lawyer."

Seeks To Control Air Pollutants

State Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) has introduced legislation to require the Illinois Pollution Control Board to establish a regulatory program for toxic air pollutants from industrial sources. He said the legislation is needed because chemical plants, petroleum refineries, and other large industrial facilities are emitting thousands of pounds of toxic substances into the air each year.

"Serious illnesses such as cancer, neurological diseases, kidney and liver damage, and chronic lung diseases may be caused by long-term exposure to toxic air pollutants," he said.

Matijevich criticized the federal government's lack of regulation over toxic air pollutants from industrial facilities. He said that of the many toxic substances released into the air, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) has set standards for only seven substances (benzene, vinyl chloride, mercury, beryllium, radionuclides, arsenic and asbestos). In the last several years, the USEPA has identified seven other substances that are known or probable carcinogens.

"Rather than establishing emission standards to control these substances, the USEPA announced it intended to further study them," Matijevich said, "and I think that is proof enough that the federal government is doing a lousy job of controlling toxic emissions."

Illinois must fill the void caused by the federal government's inaction, according to Matijevich. But the state has no formal regulatory program to control toxic air pollutants.

The IEPA is operating a pilot program that examines toxic emissions primarily from chemical plants as part of its permit process. The program relies on informal guidelines that attempt to get voluntary emission reductions.

WTHS, Mustangs Will Field Young Teams For New Season

Warren and Mundelein's baseball teams both will have similar looks for the 1987 season.

Both the Blue Devils and the Mustangs will be fielding young teams and coaches Ron Sheldon at Warren and Fred Pickett at Mundelein know that their teams may take some lumps early in the season.

"We're real young and we have a lot of juniors who have not played that much. It will take some time," Sheldon said.

The Blue Devils' mentor does have his son, Derek, returning as a catcher. The younger Sheldon ripped pitchers last year for a .418 average.

"Derek has to do a lot for us both offensively and defensively," Sheldon said.

Besides Sheldon, other returnees include pitchers Tom Thompson and Brad Beitzel.

"They came along well late in the season last year," Sheldon said.

But Warren, which finished 13-10 overall last year, may be in search for a solid third pitcher, the same situation the team found itself in 1986.

Sheldon said one of the challenges for most of his squad will be the adjustment from sophomore to varsity level.

"They have to adjust to me. One of the keys will be our self-discipline," Sheldon said.

In the outfield, Warren will be counting on Jim Harte and Wes Quist in two of the positions.

Mark Vendetti and Brendt Howard provide a solid double play combination at second and short.

"Brendt has looked super so far at shortstop. He fields the ball nice. He'll help," Sheldon said.

Meanwhile at Mundelein, Pickett knows at least two starters are back from last year's club. Senior shortstop Ed Meier and centerfielder John McNulty both return.

But beyond that, competition rages for the remaining starting spots.

"We're going to have a young, inexperienced team but as the season goes on, we will improve. They'll be battling for positions the next two weeks," Pickett said.

Pickett said he hopes to use the non-conference games to see who fits best at various positions.

In addition to Meier and McNulty, pitching could be considered a strength. Junior righthander Dave Smith returns as well as seniors Jim Frank and Tom Trahan. McNulty will also pitch when not playing center.

J. T. Mathwig, an all-conference basketball player, returns to the outfield.

Pickett said one of his team's strengths will be team speed.

Both Sheldon and Pickett predicted an open North Suburban Conference race this spring, with Libertyville, Stevenson and Lake Forest as early favorites.

Sheldon, who is in his 17th year at WTHS, said he likes the conference's new schedule of home-and-away games on Tuesdays and Thursdays with doubleheaders on Saturdays.

Morris Hopes To Continue Hitting Success At Aurora

A Wauconda High School graduate is hoping he can contribute to the success of the Aurora University baseball team.

Mark Morris will be playing shortstop for Aurora this spring and teamed with Mark Chambers in the double-play combination. Morris, a senior, is a co-captain on the squad.

Morris led Aurora with a .377 batting average and had 29 RBIs last year.

Aurora finished 25-12 last year and aims to continue its momentum this season.

"My players are excited about last year's finish. This team wants to be successful and they are working towards that. With eight position players back and all of our pitchers that recorded a victory last year back, we have to be considered a potential team for the NCAA Division III tournament play," Schmid said.

In 1986, the Spartans rallied together to claim their third straight Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference title with an 11-0 record.

Aurora hit .320 as a team last year and 10 players over the .300 mark.

"Overall, we have excellent depth," Smith said of this year's contingent. "We are strong in the pitching department and offensive categories. Defensively we should be adequate and if we lack anything, it is our team speed. Still, we have a nice blend of senior leadership and capable underclassmen," Schmid said.

Schmid is 79-62 at Aurora and this is his fifth season as coach there.

'Hawks, Wauconda Hope To Play At .500 This Season

Johnsburg and Wauconda both have the same hopes and problems as the 1987 baseball season unfolds.

Both the Skyhawks and the Bulldogs will be aiming to stay competitive and chase Northwest Suburban Conference favorite Grant with varying degrees of experience this spring.

"I like to think we're capable of getting back to playing .500 baseball. With a proper attitude, I feel we can get there," Johnsbury coach Wayne Hiller said.

The Skyhawks, because of more seniors on the roster, would appear to have the better chance to finish in the NWSC's first division.

Three senior pitchers return at Johnsbury to anchor the pitching staff: Scott Bowerman, Brian Frazier and Frank Husak. Senior Ron Szat who was not on the team last year, pitched as a sophomore and will return.

Other seniors returning for JHS will be third baseman Mark Clary and second baseman Brian Peisert.

"Defense, I feel, will be one of our strengths this year," Hiller said.

Hiller said the catching position, though, is up for grabs.

In the outfield, junior Klye Bers joins Bowerman, Frasier, Eric Mellum and Tony Weber as those most likely to see the bulk of the playing time.

Hitting, though, may be a problem for Johnsbury.

"Our weak point may be our hitting," Hiller said.

Husak batted in the high .400s last year and Bowerman hit .350.

Hiller has 18 players on his roster, 10 seniors and eight juniors.

At Wauconda, coach Jim Van Fleet could use a few more players. As in most WHS sports, there is a numbers problem this spring, as only 13 players are on the Bulldogs' roster.

"We're a young and inexperienced team. It is definitely a building year," Van Fleet said.

Wauconda has had to bring up three players from its underclass ranks. Sophomores Ken Klesch, a catcher and pitcher, pitcher-infielder Dan Richards and utility player Tim Rapier are joined by freshman Rick Dixon, an infielder-pitcher.

Wauconda does have Todd

Marlowe back behind the plate. Marlowe, a senior, was an all-NWSC selection last year. "He's one of the best in the area. He can hit with power and we will be counting on him for leadership," Van Fleet said.

The other returning player is second baseman Jerry DeLaurentis.

Although the numbers have been few, Van Fleet said he is pleased with his team's attitude so far.

"Our goal is to be competitive all year long. We have the talent. We need to get some experience," Van Fleet said.

Both Hiller and Van Fleet acknowledged that Grant will be the top dog, at least at the start of the NWSC season.

"Grant has the inside track," Hiller said.

But maybe, with a few breaks, Johnsbury and Wauconda could be coming up on the outside to challenge.

Waste Management Will Be Judged On Criteria

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor
NOW I KNOW what it feels like. Last week I said I thought that, realistically, Waste Management's application for incinerator and landfill will receive ultimate approval.

Between letters and phone about having a new dump in my back yard than I was last fall. The fact is, though, that if you expect to win a battle, you have to fight it on grounds that can win. The anti-landfill rhetoric right now will make a lot of people feel good and very righteous. But I believed from the begin-land around the site at a premium price.

Waste Management's proposal does meet the criteria the Solid Waste Advisory Committee (now the Solid Waste Joint Action Planning Agency) set up. The agency endorsed the idea of mass-burn incineration as the most viable alternative. Both the agency and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency agreed that Lake County would have a problem with adequate landfill space by 1991. Now, there is testimony before the hearing board that mass-burn incineration is a flawed technology. The agency has decided that there is no need for additional landfill space until 1996.

When it reaches the Pollution Control Board, they are going to wonder if the criteria were changed because they should have been changed or if it was a matter of expediency because of the public outcry. I'm willing to bet that the Pollution Control Board will make its decision based on the criteria that were in existence before the controversy arose.

So the stage is set. The Lake County Board can defuse much of the criticism by rejecting this application knowing full well that Pollution Control Board approval is near certain.

In April, 1983, Waste Management was hit with a barrage of charges. (For details, see inset, "Environmental Questions"). Following that, the company created a new environmental compliance department and hired more than a dozen former government employees to shore up relations with regulators. Jerry E. Dempsey, a former acting chief of the Environmental Protection Agency, took over the environmental-management department. The company's environmental compliance officials were given authority to over-rule site managers and chemists.

Since then, the company has had few new environmental problems. It has taken great pains to cross the T's and dot the I's in its operations. It has had a series of on-going problems with employees engaging in practices that are questionable at best. (For details, see inset "A Question Of Ethics.")

Whatever method is ultimately chosen to deal with the problem of disposing of solid municipal wastes will involve some risk and, thus, controversy. Every waste-disposal technology has its expert detractors who are willing to testify. The EPA and the IEPA have, at times, endorsed techniques later found to be seriously flawed.

Hearing boards lend no more weight to one expert than another; they make decisions based on the preponderance of the evidence. It is a hard job, because every time the board says yes, someone has testified that they are dead wrong. Sometimes they are.

So why won't current efforts stop the Waste Management proposal? Two reasons: 1) they try to change rules in the middle of the game. A reasonable man would not believe that the criteria already in existence would be toughened in the absence of Waste Management's specific proposal. 2) no reasonable alternative is being offered to that of Waste Management. County leaders have been aware of the waste disposal problem for over a decade - ample time to come up with reasonable alternatives.

If the anti-landfill groups (Continued on Page 9)

calls since then, I have been accused of "selling out," showing no concern for the life and welfare of the people in central Lake County, and being bought off by special interests. I live in central Lake County (Round Lake) and if I was bought off, my wife sure would like to know why we're still driving a $400 Bernard special.

I am no more enthusiastic ning that someone was going to have a viable alternative. No one has come up with anything other than pipe dreams as an alternative to Waste Management's proposal. We are not going to ship our garbage to McHenry County, we are not going to move the site to Rondout, and we are not going to have the forest preserve district buy the

Environment Questions

In April, 1983, Waste Management was hit with a flood of charges relating to environmental hazards. Among the charges:

Vickery, Ohio: March, 1983 - site closed after discovery that it contained 135,000 gallons of contaminated waste. A former employee charged that local managers ordered him to destroy test results.

Calumet City, Ill.: March, 1983 - attorney general, in $1.1 million lawsuit, charged that 400,000 gallons of a carcinogen were illegally dumped.

Emelle, Ala.: March, 1984 - Montgomery County Dist. Atty. James Evans subpoenaed records as part of investigation that facility may have been illegally used for storage of PCB's and dioxyn.

Joliet, Ill.: March, 1983 - attorney general claims that DCB was illegally disposed of at Waste Management facility. Waste Management won this case at Illinois Supreme Court earlier this year.

As noted in the accompanying article, Waste Management responded to these problems by creating an environmental compliance department and hiring over a dozen former government officials, including a former acting chief of the EPA. Since then, there have been few cases of environmental contamination.

A Question Of Ethics

Waste Management employees and subsidiaries have been hit with many charges of unethical behavior. Among them are:

New Jersey, May, 1980 - Waste Systems, Inc. of Lake City, a Georgia-based subsidiary of Waste Management, is indicted with three other waste companies for a price-fixing conspiracy. It was convicted in March, 1983.

Fox Lake, April, 1986 - John Horak, manager of HOD, a Waste Management subsidiary, is convicted of bribing a former mayor and village trustee in exchange for a garbage contract. He claimed, at the end of the trial, that James DeBoer, president of Waste Management, authorized the payments. No charges were filed against DeBoer.

Chicago, February, 1987 - Raymond Akers Jr., a former Waste Management employee, is charged with giving a $10,000 bribe to Ald. Clifford Kelley in exchange for the alderman's help in securing public business. He claims that James DeBoer, president of Waste Management, authorized the payment. Waste Management denies the charge and says that Akers was operating on his own behalf. The charge is part of the ongoing "Operation Incubator" investigation.

Oak Brook, March, 1987 - Wall Street Journal reports that four executives of Waste Management, including Dean Buntrock, chairman, purchased 45,400 shares of ChemLawn Corp. over the last two years. ChemLawn was subject to a Waste Management takeover bid in February. The four stand to profit by about $1 million.

New Plan Advocates Cash Fed Morality

by GLORIA DAVIS

Remember all the publicity and controversy about the federal government paying farmers not to do their jobs; paying them handsomely not to raise corn, not to raise hogs, etc.?

Yes, those were the "Golden Days" of the U.S. farmer, not unlike the "Golden Years" of the Green Bay Packers (Green Bay who?). Both of the above may never see that kind of gold shine again.

There are those that will liken those years to a continual wage subsidization by either the welfare or unemployment systems, citing the resemblance to being paid not to go to work.

nylon stockings.

My next biggest worry was whether or not (remember these were the pre-panty hose days) I would be able to find ones to fit my chicken legs without wrinkling at my boney ankles.

I read that this all started in Harlem, New York, six or seven years ago when a successful businessman told a class of sixth grade girls that he would pay their college tuition if they simply graduated from high school.

Actually this non-pregnant idea could really be a pregnant one! Think of the possible spinoffs!

When I Think About It

Now this negative productivity has entered into a new phase with some state powers-to-be actually proposing that we start paying people to be moral. Case in point, a proposal now rearing its head in some state capitols to pay "at risk" teen-age girls not to get pregnant.

The lawmakers that are backing this legislation are working on the old forbidden theory that, "the end justifies the means."

With the millions of dollars now being spent in Aid To Dependant Mothers (ADC) payments, the proponents of negative birth bill claim that in the long run the $10,000 per teen this bill would cost will be much less than the cost of putting these single mothers and their offspring on the welfare rolls.

The plan is to pay young girls that someone has somehow decided "are the type to get pregnant out of wedlock," $10,000 towards going to college as long as they remain in a nonreproductive state.

They are talking about starting this program with "risky, or should we say risqué girls" in ninth grade (or in the 13 to 15-year-old age groups.)

Cheeeze! I was still in Girl Scouts at that age and my biggest worry was whether or not my mother would let me start wearing

We could start making not drinking and driving profitable by giving those not convicted of DUI inside of a specific time free license plates.

Banks might be able to get lower insurance rates by offering those who have not robbed them, lower interest rates on mortgages or loans.

This might even spread into the family structure. Parents could raise their kids' allowance for not disobeying, not lying, etc. and the schools can get into the act by offering free lunches (even though 'tis said there ain't none) to kids that don't miss classes.

The danger of working through negativism is that it could be the death knell of anything positive. Without being positive we are unsure and shakey and anything that is shakey can more easily crumble.

Its like paying for a premium that is being offered for nothing. Since most of the people are moral most of the time, this whole idea could end up being more costly because people who would have walked the straight and narrow unpaid would now also be salaried.

Don't forget the premise that two negatives cancel each other out!

Plan Easter Seals Dance

The annual Easter Seals Drive will be officially kicked off in Antioch on April 26. Century 21 Michael Warren and Co. will sponsor this third annual Night for Easter Seals. The gala buffet dinner/dance and auction will be held at the Country House in Antioch.

The public is invited to support Easter Seals. Officials of the organization have indicated that 90 individuals have received assistance.

Easter Seals provides therapy and treatment for the hearing or speech impaired.

Physical therapy is provided as well as equipment teaching programs, and special settings such as camps for various handicapped persons.

The following businesses and individuals have donated cash or items to be auctioned at the Night for Easter Seals: Strang Funeral Home, Dan Dugenske, Nick Papadakis, Norman Olson Insurance, Pickard China, Georgiana Carey, Quaker Industries, Antioch Quick Print, Audrey McNally, Jackies Hallmark and Video Exchange.

Graduates

Kelly Geist of Antioch has received, with distinction, an associate of applied science degree from Ferris State College, Big Rapids, Mich. Geist's emphasis was in automotive service technology.

Saint Therese Foundation Has Successful Fundraiser

Saint Therese Medical Center's third annual "An Affair of the Heart" dinner-dance raised over $83,000 this year, more than three times last year's total.

The annual event, held at the Marriott Lincolnshire Resort, benefitted the Saint Therese Janssen Foundation, the fundraising arm of the Medical Center.

Under the direction of Helene Denney, director of Corporate Development at Saint Therese, the 1987 charity gala was one of the most successful fundraisers in Saint Therese history.

A silent auction and dancing to the Stanley Paul Orchestra was offered to those who attended.

The primary purpose of the Janssen Foundation is to provide funding for the hospital to fulfill its unique mission: A Catholic philosophy, providing service to all, regardless of background and ability to pay, and in its respect for the dignity of the human being and the sacredness of every stage of life.

The two key recipients of the Foundation are at the opposite ends of the life cycle:

One is to help protect life with a program for the single women in a pregnancy crisis, and the other is to help ease the process of dying through Hospice, a program for the family members as well as patients.

Will Beyer, Grever Team Up?

A hot primary campaign is shaping in County Board Dist. 6, which includes Cuba, Ela, Fremont and Wauconda Twp., along with portions of Libertyville and Vernon Twp.

It is primarily a Republican area. If you win the GOP primary, it is tantamount to the election.

The Dist. 6 representatives are Jerry Beyer of Wauconda, C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington (Cuba), Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich (Ela) and John Reindl of rural Mundelein (Fremont). Beyer's three colleagues reportedly are committed to his political destruction. The selection of the county board chairman and the growth issue has fragmented the Dist. 6 delegation.

Both Hansen and Reindl are first-term representatives who won office in the 1986 elections. Both Beyer and Anderson are veteran county board members, who will be seeking re-election in the March 15, 1988, GOP primary. Rumors are circulating that Beyer will team up with either Ela Twp. Supervisor Robert L. Grever or Cuba Twp. Supervisor Wayne F. Miller to enhance his reelection prospects.

In a discussion with Lakeland Newspapers, Grever indicated that he was considering a possible county board candidacy in next spring's election. Grever didn't rule out the possibility of organizing a coalition with Beyer.

"Anything is possible," Grever commented.

Dept. To Hold Fish Sale

The Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. will continue to provide professional counsel in lake and pond management this year.

Since correct fish stocking is an integral part of any good lake management, the district is conducting its fifth annual fish sale program, offering a variety of species and sizes of fish. The purpose of the fish sale program is to help pond owners, lake associations, park districts, sportsman's clubs, etc., in stocking their lakes and ponds. The first sale will be conducted on Saturday, May 2, at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake.

Five species of fish will be available through the district for the May 2 sale: largemouth bass, hybrid sunfish, channel catfish, fathead minnows and triploid white amur. The white amur was recently legalized by the Illinois Dept. of Conservation (IDOC) for controlling problem seaweed in smaller lakes and ponds. White amur can only be stocked with an IDOC permit into sanctioned water bodies.

The deadline for placing orders is Friday, April 24, except for white amur, which has a May 1 deadline in order to allow time to secure permits. For more information, call the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. office at (312) 223-1056 during business hours or (815) 675-6545 after 6 p.m.

Classes Help Stepfamilies Avoid Some Common Problems

The image of the "wicked stepmother" is still a part of our society. Perhaps it has continued because step-parenting can be a challenge for everyone. Regardless of honorable intentions, a remarriage with children can lead to frustration and disappointment.

Children protest, "You are not my real parent. I don't have to obey you." The new marriage is going very well in all areas except for dealing with the children.

The parents confess, "if something is not done, this marriage will break up."

Although situations vary greatly, some common patterns do emerge. It was because of these similarities that Katy McElroy, a family therapist with Family Counseling Clinic, Inc., in Grayslake, began conducting educational classes for stepparents. Relief is expressed when stepparents find out that they are not alone.

McElroy has identified some common problems. She notes that frequently there are unrealistic expectations. Strangers are expected to love each other instantly and be one big, happy family. Teenagers may feel caught in-between, because if they get close to the new stepparent, then they feel disloyal to their biological parent.

According to McElroy, most children have the fantasy of their parents getting back together someday. Obviously, a new marriage creates an obstacle for this wish.

McElroy explains that a parent may regret that children have had to go through the divorce and therefore, have difficulty setting realistic limits. In essence they are trying to make up for all of the bad times. A stepparent may be appalled at the lack of discipline, and enters the situation to provide all of the needed controls. As the tensions build, the stepparent plays the role of the "heavy" and the biological parent looks like the "weak" protector of the children. The drama continues with the stepparent giving up and withdrawing from all parental responsibility. It is at this point that another divorce may threaten the family.

McElroy stresses that not all stepparenting families have serious difficulties. However, minor misunderstandings can take their toll if not discussed openly. Her classes provide information, inspiration, and hope. Stepparents are encouraged to continue to learn, to grow, and to be more comfortable with themselves.

The next class will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. at Family Counseling Clinic, Inc., 19300 West Hwy. 120, Grayslake. For more information, call (312) 223-8107.

Trout Pour

It may never rain cats and dogs, but it did rain fish in England in 1859. According to Ranger Rick magazine, strong winds of a storm can sometimes suck up all sorts of small things from the ground or even the water. Then miles away, these things fall from the sky. In 1922, spiders rained on Hungary, and in 1982, two frogs dropped out of the sky in Dubuque.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Schmid Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Schmid, Sr., former residents of Long Lake, observed their 50th wedding anniversary at a family dinner party March 20 at Riverview Inn, Deerfield Beach, Fla., where they have resided for 19 years.

Among those attending was the best man at their wedding ceremony in Chicago in 1937, Paul Schmid, brother of the groom. A former resident of McHenry, he now makes his home in Delray Beach, Fla.

Also attending were the Schmid's children, Mrs. William H. (Nancy) Schroeder of Long Lake, and William J. Schmid, Jr., Deerfield Beach.

The Schmid's moved to Florida after selling their business, S & S Petroleum of Round Lake, a petroleum distribution company serving northeastern Illinois.

The Schmid's were well-known in boating circles and were members of the Waukegan Yacht Club and Kenosha Yacht Club. In Florida, they were members of the Lighthouse Point Yacht Club, Pompano Beach, before becoming active in motorhoming. Mrs. Schmid is also an avid golfer.

The x-ray procedure which can detect cancer in early stages, is being offered for $55, $25 below the usual cost. During April the tests are being held at the Saint Therese Area Trauma Satellite (STATS) in Lake Villa, 37809 N. Rte. 59. During May they will be conducted at the medical center at 2615 Washington St. in Waukegan and at STATS. For information or to register call (312) 360-2690 or (312) 356-6600.

Apply Now For Heat Assistance

Low-income residents should apply for the Illinois Residential Affordable Payment Plan to avoid having their electricity or gas shut off this spring.

In past years, people behind in their payments often had to use dangerous heating devices, to sign up for payment arrangements that were difficult to meet or live in the cold. Now they can sign up for IRAPP, known as the 12-percent affordable budget plan.

Residents may call (800) 252-8643 toll-free to find out where to apply.

Individuals may be examined for the nominal fee of $45.00, or, if they prefer, the Clinics' Staff will match the individual with another patient to constitute a "couple or 2/1". Our hours are convenient and flexible. Our physicians are members of the clinical faculty here! We've got the knowhow. But we can't do it without your help! We know you're out there, yet you have to make the first call. We'll do the rest. THE NUMBER IS: 473-HELP. Call it NOW.

State Catchable Sites Open To Trout Anglers

Approximately 61,000 catchable rainbow trout have been distributed among 34 sites throughout Illinois in April as a part of the Catchable Trout Program, according to Mike Conlin, chief of the Division of Fisheries for the Illinois Dept. of Conservation.

Fishing for catchable rainbow trout legally began at 5 a.m. on April 4, but opening time at some sites may be later, depending on the opening of the park or facility. In order to be sure of the opening time for the particular trout area where fishing is planned, check with the site office or headquarters.

Anglers were prohibited from taking trout before April 4 in order to permit stocking by DOC fisheries biologists. After the April 4 opening, anglers may continue to take rainbow trout until the supply is exhausted.

To legally take trout from any of the catchable trout fishing areas, anglers must have a fishing license and salmon stamp, unless they are 65 years or older, under 16, blind or disabled, or Illinois residents on leave from the Armed Forces. Licenses, at $7.50, and salmon stamps, at $2.50, are available from sporting goods stores and other vendors located near the lakes.

The daily creel limit of five trout per angler will be enforced on all catchable trout areas throughout the state.

Local areas which have received trout are Silver Lake at the DuPage Co. Forest Preserve Dist.; and Hollows Lake in McHenry County.

Cake Tip

If a cake slips while you are icing it, skewer the layers together until the icing sets.

In Search of Musical Volunteers

The North Chicago Veterans Administration Medical Center in North Chicago is looking for persons who can sing or play a musical instrument. Kathleen McHugh, chief of voluntary services, along with her colleagues are heading an effort to recruit new members for their medical musical group. The 35-member chorus/25-member orchestra formed last October, presented a Christmas concert which was covered on cable tv on Dec. 19 for staff and patients at the center. The chorus meets on Sundays from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and the orchestra meets on Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. If interested call (312) 688-1900, ext. 3139.

Bill Proposes Late Charges For State

Vendors engaged in business with the state would be eligible to receive interest on late payments made by the state, under a bill introduced by State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake).

"The need for this bill arose from complaints I received from small businesses and vendors, who were forced to take legal action against the state in order to be paid," said Klemm. "Many small companies and private businessmen can't afford the costly and time-consuming process of going through the Court of Claims to collect unpaid interest charges. I hope this bill will encourage small businesses to be less hesitant about doing business with the state."

Klemm stressed that his bill would add the interest to the amount due if the state is late in paying its bills, pointing out that businesses often borrow money to cover their expenses while waiting to be paid by the state.

The bill amends the Prompt Payment Act to specify that a vendor need only to initiate a written request for the interest penalty stating when it is due and payable. Klemm introduced a similar bill last year which passed the House unanimously, only to be stalled in the Senate.

Museum Has Two New Displays

Two exhibits have been added to the Lake County Museum.

Three Victorian storefronts have been fabricated, and feature a toy shop, gunsmith and a general store. All contain objects previously kept in storage; many are on exhibit for the first time.

"America in a Postcard Mirror" has also opened. This exhibit features a diverse selection of postcards from the Museum's Curt Teich postcard collection. Objects from the Museum's collections are also included in this exhibit to further define a specific time period. The exhibit structure is in the streamlined "art deco" style of the 1930s.

Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. president Donald Strenger commented, "The new exhibits have been beautifully designed and fabricated and should be seen by all."

The Lake County Museum is open daily from 1 to 4:30 p.m. It is located in the Lakewood Forest Preserve, east of Wauconda, on Rte. 176. Admission fees are $1 for adults, 50 cents for students and seniors, preschoolers and Museum Assn. members are free. Monday is a free day for all visitors. Group rates, school tour times and a gift shop are all available.

End-of-season cliffhangers are getting sillier and sillier

By Constance Pace

It's silly season again on prime-time television — otherwise known as end-of-the-season cliffhanger time on nighttime soap operas. Since nighttime soaps became popular about seven years ago, fashioning endings so cataclysmic that viewers just have to tune in for the first episode of the new season has become a tradition. More recently, it has become a joke. A few weeks ago, the silliness reached new heights when Fallon Colby (Emma Samms) was abducted by a UFO on ABC's low-rated "The Colbys."

Certainly cliffhangers are as old as soap operas themselves (they've been done daily on daytime radio and TV soaps for at least 50 years). But nighttime soaps have so mishandled their end-of-season episodes that the original purpose — suspense — has been totally negated.

Unlike daytime soaps, aired daily, there are usually six or more months between a season-ending cliffhanger and the first episode of a new season on nighttime soaps. During this long period, the secret or solution often is leaked to the tabloids or the mainstream press.

Sometimes the secret doesn't even have to be leaked. Since many actors publicly announce they are leaving a show after the end of a season, viewers can conclude — correctly — that their favorite characters haven't just been superficially shot or mildly injured in a disaster. In this year's final episode of "Knots Landing," for example, Ben Gibson (Doug Sheehan), the husband of Val (Joan Van Ark) will disappear. Is he dead? Come on! Sheehan has already announced he's not coming back.

And successive cataclysmic events at the end of successive seasons are becoming harder and harder for a viewer to believe. The characters of "Falcon Crest" have already been through an earthquake and a plane crash. And this year, a major multi-car chase will end in a plunge into the San Francisco Bay. What's next? A plague of locusts descending on the Napa Valley a la "The Grapes of Wrath"?

Survivors of these soap disasters emerge regularly with nary a scratch! Blake and Krystle Carrington (John Forsythe and Linda Evans) came through "Dynasty" 's infamous Moldavian massacre a few seasons back with their makeup and shoulder pads perfectly intact.

Instead of Teflon disasters, how about having a character learning from her mistakes and suddenly do something dramatic because she has grown and matured?

Wouldn't it be great if "Dallas" 's Sue Ellen Ewing (Linda Gray) up and walked out — permanently — on J.R. (Larry Hagman), because she finally realizes he's a terminal jerk?

TV catches up with rowing

By Marty Linehan

What sport has been growing by leaps and bounds in the last few years, without the benefit of even a hint of television exposure? Rowing.

According to the United States Rowing Association, college and club competitors have increased their memberships from 10,000 two years ago to more than 17,000 this year, and the USRA claims that more than three times that many participate regularly.

Paula Oyer, the association's executive director, says the pure amateurism of the sport is what draws competitors. The pastime, unlike track and field, for instance, allows no individual commercial tie-ins for equipment or clothing.

"People row because of the joy of the sport," she says. "Not for the glory. At the end of a 2,000-meter race, there isn't any glory."

But it wasn't always thus. Back in the 19th century, rowing was marred by massive gambling-related corruption, which helped lead to the establishment of the USRA in 1872. Since then it has kept its oars clean.

Old-timers will recall the Poughkeepsie Regatta, a collegiate event that ranked with the Rose Bowl and the Army-Navy game among undergraduates before World War II. Crowds of 50,000 viewing the beauty of the synchronized crews along the banks of the Hudson River each June were not uncommon.

But even as golf and tennis have fallen for the lure of the sponsors' gold, so have the pristine rowers.

The San Diego Crew Classic, an annual regatta that officially opens the rowing season and attracts 2,000 competitors from 80 universities and rowing clubs, has signed an agreement with the Miller Brewing Company. Miller will put up $100,000 over the next three years, and from now on the regatta will be known as "The San Diego Lowenbrau Crew Classic."

While San Diego is the first to bite the big-money bullet, other regattas are dicker with national sponsors, and several brewers are interested in backing the sport's national championships and team trials.

But the association, which likes the idea of the cash and commercialism, is taking a long look at its new associations, especially with the brewers. According to Oyer, they don't want to forge a link between rowing and the alcohol industry. They don't want the winning crew throwing the coxswain in the river singing: "This Bud's for you."

What's next for rowing? When sponsors show up with money in their hot little hands, TV people soon show up with cameras in their hot little hands. So this year's college championships at Cincinnati and the USRA's championships at Indianapolis will be carried on cable TV.

excitement in Lake County," predicted Federation president Ned Fisher of Waukegan.

The event will open with a 6 p.m. reception, followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m. The Republicans rely on the annual dinner to support GOP activities in Lake County, especially the fulltime Lake

Dole served in the U. S. House of Representatives

In the Senate, Dole headed the Finance Committee from 1980 to 1984, when he was elected Senate Republican Leader.

Cooling system neglect runs rampant

A couple of years ago, Union Carbide conducted a nationwide survey of randomly selected vehicles to determine the condition of the coolant in their cooling systems. What they found wasn't surprising. Of the 1004 vehicles sampled, over a third had too much water for adequate corrosion protection, a fourth lacked a high enough concentration of antifreeze for adequate freezing protection, and a fourth had too much antifreeze (more than 70% concentration).

When the coolant was checked for the presence of sediment, only 10% of the cars showed no visible sediment. Over a third of the vehicles were judged to be overdue for a coolant change, and nearly half showed heavy to moderate sediment contamination.

The coolant level was found to be low in nearly a third, and one out of five had experienced overheating—most likely due to cooling system neglect.

Ridesharing Saves Money

Since its inception, public interest in the Carpool Hotline sponsored by the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS) has proven that commuters are definitely interested in saving money and time by ridesharing. For many commuters ridesharing is the most economical way to travel to and from work. For others, it's their only way to commute.

During the six-and-a-half years that CATS has been promoting ridesharing, over 25,000 people living in the northeastern Illinois region have applied for matching information. In addition, hundreds of company-sponsored carpool and van-pool programs have been started, making it cheaper and easier for employees to commute to work.

For example, a typical commuter can save $155 or more each month by ridesharing. This is based on the use of an intermediate size automobile traveling thirty miles a day, averaging sixteen miles to a gallon of fuel at a cost of one dollar a gallon. Besides fuel, this figure takes into consideration oil, maintenance, tires, insurance and depreciation. Parking and toll fees are not included in the estimates. In other words, an individual driving alone to and from work will spend $233.20 while a commuter in a three-person carpool will spend $77.70.

Individuals and companies wishing to start up or join existing carpools or vanpools should call the Carpool Hotline at (312)793-RIDE for more information.

Changes Occur In Wedding Ceremonies

"If there are any people here who object to this union, may they speak now or forever hold their peace".

Those words, Harry Clark, Pastor of the Gurnee Community Church, said, are no longer part of his services.

"The biggest change in the 20 years I have been performing weddings is the modernization of language. We've taken out the thees and thous," Clark said.

Clark said his wedding season basically runs from March through October.

"It slacks off in November and December," he said.

Clark conducts a Presbyterian based ceremony. Most of his services have been fairly ordinary.

Father Don Ulatowski of St. Gilbert's Church in Grayslake said he has seen unusual weddings outside but not inside.

"Outside I've seen weddings with model T's, trailers and carriages. Inside, things don't change much," he said.

Ulatowski said September and October are gaining on the traditional months of May and June as a favorite time to get married.

Also, the Friday night candlelight service is gaining in popularity, he said.

"It gives them a long weekend," Ulatowski said.

Ulatowski said Catholics are taking more time to plan a wedding, with the norm as six to eight months.

People are also taking a more active role in the type of service performed.

"They're picking their own readers and passages and writing their own vows," Ulatowski said.

The phrase "honor and obey" has been eliminated from the ceremonies, Ulatowski said.

Silk Is Elegant

A lighter than air China-silk gown has a tucked skirt. Pearls frame the off-the-shoulder neckline and form rosettes to accent the short puffed sleeves. Veil is crowned with pearl centered rosettes.

Wedding Bands Symbolize Constancy

Good news! Marriage is back in style and today's weddings have returned en masse to the traditions of the past. One of the best and most beautiful traditions involved the exchange of rings. Why the ring?

There are two ancient beliefs linked to the conceptual design of the wedding ring as it is known today. First, gold signified noble and durable affection. Second, roundness symbolized the constancy of love and the unending respect and regard for the loved one.

The custom of placing the wedding or betrothal ring on the fourth finger seems to have generated from the ancient Egyptian idea that a special nerve or vein of this finger ran directly to the heart.

The first diamond rings became popular in France during the reign of Louis XI (1461-1483). At this time, the art of faceting stones was invented, in turn bringing diamonds, symbols of endurance and strength, quickly into favor.

When Maximilian of Austria proposed to Mary of Burgundy in 1477, he presented her with a diamond ring; the diamond band has since represented a pledge of love.

Thanks to a seemingly endless array of styles, today's marrying couples can demonstrate their individuality in the rings they select.

Jewelers of America (JA), the national association of more than 12,000 retail jewelers across the country, notes that every possible style is in today's market, ranging from old antique fashions to modern-looking wedding bands.

Gold is still the favorite for today's wedding bands. And, although the plain gold wedding band continues to maintain its dominance in the market, rings with texture and detailing are making strong inroads.

Newlyweds Can Learn Care For Clothing

the honeymoon is and the newlyweds get to normal living, setting up a new household, an apartment, one's self—all at the same time—can be tedious.

Through new relationships and apartments, a cooperative effort, one's self looking strictly a personal responsibility.

One personal grooming (and bridging!) problem that needs daily attention is clothing care.

When it comes to cleaning clothing, two cannot live as cheaply as one. In fact, clothing care is one of those costs which simply doubles when two become one.

Here then, for the newlyweds, are some easy, economical and useful ways to keep clothing looking good forever after:

—Solutions which contain alcohol, such as deodorants, lotions and perfumes, can upset the dyes in delicate fabrics and cause stains. Always allow these solutions to dry before dressing.

—Perspiration can leave a permanent yellow discoloration and objectionable odor if a garment is worn repeatedly. Launder perspiration-stained blouses, shirts and sweaters as soon as possible in cold-water wash.

—Use a lint roller, made of safe, durable, pressure-sensitive tape, to rid clothing of lint. A stiff brush can remove nap from natural fibers and diminish the look and life of the garment.

—Don't press stained or soiled clothing. The heat will set the stains and the pressure will force soil deeper into the fibers.

Contracts Change

Marriage contracts traditionally stipulated the bride's dowry, her obligations to her spouse and her husband's responsibility

A very colorful example of an old marriage contract is one that was drawn up by a Scottish sea captain during the 19th century. In nautical terms, he outlines his and his spouse's duties to each other which include the traditional concepts of wifely obedience in exchange for a husband's care and protection.

"I explained to her the conditions under which we were to sail in company on life's voyage," states the sailor.

"She is to obey signals without question when received.

"She is to steer by my reckoning.

"She is to stand by as a true consort in foul weather, battle or shipwreck.

"She is to run under my guns if assailed by picaroons or privateers.

"I am to keep her in due repair and see that she hath her allowance of coats of paint, streamers and bunting as befits a saucy craft.

"I am to take no other craft in tow, and if any be now attached to cut their hawsers (lines.)

"I am to revictual (feed) her every day.

"Should she be blown on her beam ends by wind or misfortune, I am to stand by and see her righted.

"I am to set our course for the Great Harbor in the hope that good mooring may be found for two well-built crafts when laid up for eternity."

This metaphorical marriage contract, found a few years ago in an old deed box by a lawyer in Edinburgh, first appeared in The Lookout magazine.

Marrying Later Means Better Honeymoon

by CINDY KUJAK

When a couple plans a wedding, there are many decisions to be made. One of the most important things to decide is the honeymoon destination.

According to Judy at the Barnloft East Travel Agency in Gurnee, Hawaii is their biggest seller. She remembers arranging a Hawaiian wedding, complete with minister and dinner, on a cliff overlooking the beach.

Judy says the trend over the past couple of years is toward more expensive wedding trips, partly because it's a time the couple will always remember. Another reason for extravagance—many couples are marrying later. They've saved enough money, have better jobs, and are in a position where they can afford the luxury.

Even videos and still photographers can be incorporated into the honeymoon package.

Next to Hawaii, Florida seems to be a favorite with newlyweds. It's much more economical than the Hawaiian alternative, yet has the sun and the sandy beaches.

The travel agent said the price range of honeymoons is $299 per person for an economical venture, to $1,500 per person for real extravagance.

Caribbean cruises are often requested, and some couples opt for the Poconos in Pennsylvania, where honeymoon resorts abound, complete with heart-shaped tubs and heart-shaped beds. Las Vegas trips are still popular, as well.

Honeymooners don't seem to go for the exotic. According to the travel agents contacted, the most unusual expeditions involved scuba diving in the Caymen Islands and mountain climbing in the Rockies.

Videotaping Weddings Gaining In Popularity

The traditional wedding has changed little over the years. Besides the bride and groom, it usually includes the church or hall, the clergyman or justice of the peace and the inebriated photographer running away during the ceremony.

Today, however, many weddings include a relative newcomer—a videographer. It is a person who videotapes the proceedings. With portable home gear it's easy enough for almost anyone to do.

Today's portable video cameras and cameras are lightweight, easy to use, quiet and require no special lighting," says Richard B. Williams, marketing manager for General Electric's Video Products Div.

"As a result, it's a perfect way to capture the 'live' feel of a wedding without being obtrusive."

Previously, the only means of capturing the "live" feeling of a wedding was with a home movie camera. But home movies were never really practical for events like weddings, Williams comments.

"Filming a home movie during a wedding ceremony tends to be disruptive because it requires additional lighting, and the camera itself can be noisy," he says.

Aside from weddings, portable video equipment is perfect for recording everything from vacation highlights to the kids' little league games.

But what about cost? True, a video camera and VCR are more expensive than a movie camera and projector. But in the long run, savings from video can be substantial compared to movie film.

A study by the GE Video Products Div. estimates that six hours of home movie film, including processing, can run between $1,200 and $1,400. And the user must find room to store about 120 cans of 50-foot film.

One six-hour videotape cassette, on the other hand, costs an average of only $15 to $18. And it can be reused indefinitely, if desired.

Today's video equipment also has features never found on conventional home movie equipment. Such features as auto-focus, one-button record, push-button zoom, and a character generator (to put titles right on the tape) help make home videos look professional, even with an amateur operating the camera.

"What's nice about videotaping your wedding or any special event is that the whole day can be brought to life months or years later, simply by replaying the tape on your home tv screen,"

Williams says.

And, as videotape continues to increase in popularity, the videographer will become more common at weddings and other special occasions, capturing precious memories that will be relived for a lifetime.

Choosing Luggage Big Task

In choosing luggage, first consider one's needs. For short honeymoons, a garment bag and carry-on may be enough, but an additional suitcase will be needed for longer.

The type of luggage chosen will either be hard or soft. Hard luggage is very durable, yet heavier. Soft luggage will be made of nylon or vinyl and is probably less expensive and lighter. Quality varies so buy from a well-known manufacturer.

Be sure to try out the piece before making a decision. See if it fits and think about whether or not padded handles, wheels or shoulder straps are wanted.

Once the new purchase is home, don't put off packing until the day before the wedding.

Put shoes and heavier items at the bottom of the suitcase near the hinge. Wrap shoes in plastic to keep clothes clean and stuff with socks or underwear to save space.

Last but not least, a name and address tag is crucial.

over, we call can get on with our lives. All have returned from "Antioch-by-sea." Hear tell Antiochans were bumping into another at Disney World. Watch now, the weather will be so warm and nice that teachers will have a hard time keeping their students' minds on their studies. Actually a good case of "spring fever" seems very appealing this moment.

The Antioch High School boys tennis team enjoyed the weather and participated in the Wheeling havo with the balls, they managed a fifth place finish. High scorer for the team was Brett Mahar, placing second in the top singles bracket.

This week will see high school juniors and seniors with their noses in "How to do well on ACT test" books, as they cram for the nationwide ACT testing on Saturday. Already the college catalogs are arriving in droves daily. It would be nice if it was as easy to pay for college as to get on a college board mailing list!

The newly-formed Antioch

According to Carolyn Jester, club president, the group has 38 charter members. She has been kept busy attending 10th Dist. Junior Woman's Club board meetings as the club has progressed from "infancy" to "toddling" stage.

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller will be on the program to speak on the "Helping Hands" program. For more information call (312) 395-4104 or (312) 395-2147.

Don't forget the "tax man" cometh April 15!

Apply To Install Docks

Dr. Anton E. Urban and Dr. Nicholas Ruggiero, 543 Orchard St., Antioch, have applied for state and federal permits to install docks and a boat ramp in Petite Lake in Antioch Twp.

The marina facilities will be for the use of the patrons of the Cyprus Shores Resort and will be located offshore of lots 3-8 of Petite Park on Herman Ave.

Urban and Ruggiero own approximately 600 feet of lake frontage. The dock system will occupy most of the frontage and will project 250 feet into the lake. The piers will provide approximately 150 dock spaces and 10,000 square feet of enclosed swimming area.

They will be constructed of wood and will be removed during the off-season. The boat ramp will be a double lane ramp 24-feet wide and will be constructed of poured and precast reinforced concrete.

The applicant has applied to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for state certification of the proposed work in accordance with Section 401 of the Clean Water Act.

The certification, if issued, will express the agency's opinion that the proposed activities will not violate applicable water quality standards. Written comments concerning possible impacts to waters of Illinois should be addressed to: IEPA, Div. of Water Pollution Control, Permit Section, 2200 Churchill Rd., Springfield, IL 62706 with copy provided to the Corps of Engineers.

The IDOT/DWR application is being processed pursuant to an Act in Relation to the Regulation of the Rivers, Lakes and Streams of the State of Illinois (IRS, Chapter 19, par. 52 et seq.) Comments concerning the IDOT/DWR permit should be addressed to the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, Div. of Water Resources, 201 W. Center Ct., Schaumburg, IL 60196-1096. Gary Jereb, (312) 705-4341, may be contacted for additional information.

Preliminary review indicates that the proposed activity is not likely to jeopardize the continued existence of any species or the critical habitat of any fish and wildlife, or plant which is designated as endangered or threatened pursuant to the Endangered Species Act of 1973 as amended (16 USC 1531 et seq.). Therefore, no formal consultation request has been made to the United States Dept. of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service.

Preliminary review indicates that the proposed activity will not adversely affect historic properties which the National Park Service has listed on, or determined eligible for listing on, the National Register of Historic Places.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Weekly Tip: A promise comes true.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Congratulations. This is a very "high" period for you. Enjoy it. But don't get too carried away. Some down-to-earth tasks still need to be done. A new friend comes into your life soon.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A changing situation continues to require your close attention. Make suggestions as they're required. You have many supporters anxious to see how well you do. Keep up the good work.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) The loss of a friend's support may actually be a gain. If nothing else, it will lead you into taking action and that, more than anything, is what you really needed to do, wasn't it?

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Pay more attention to what you hear, the words may be making the real intent of the speaker. Advice: before you say yes, know what you're saying yes to. It's important.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) Romantic complications may make things difficult for Leos or Leonas who feel they're getting Cupid's cold shoulder. Advice: Make the first move to thaw out the chilling relationship.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Friends continue to stand by you as you go through another demanding time. Continue with what you're doing as you handle this latest unpleasant situation with growing confidence in yourself.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Confidence is your watch word this week. Continue to believe in your own capabilities and you continue to impress others who feel more confident that you can handle things well.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Resist the advice of those who say it's best to delay putting your new plans into operation. The opposite is true: The sooner you start, the less anxious you'll be about getting started.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Children need attention, so do older members of the family. Rearrange your schedule to leave enough time to share with them. A surprise awaits you on the job later this month.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone you expected has to cancel out. This causes a change of plans that can work to your advantage. Take this extra time to come up with a new and better presentation.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Take time for much needed relaxation and recreation. You'll return to your tasks feeling more energetic. Someone special comes back into your life soon. Expect some changes as a result.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) An unexpected arrival drops in. Be as flexible as you can to accommodate this surprise development. Another surprise awaits soon after. I'm sure you're going to be happy with it.
